Raja/Hatha Yoga Intensive

Preregistration Information – January – April 2021

Dear Friend,

Thank you for your interest in this popular and comprehensive program — The Raja & Hatha Yoga Intensive. This course is held on Thursdays online on Zoom. The series begins on Thursday, January 21, 2021.

Many students like to obtain the text (“Art and Science of Raja Yoga” by Swami Kriyananda), in advance of the class. It’s available at Ananda, the East West Bookshop in Seattle, or online — at CrystalClarity.com. Go ahead and read Step 1 History ahead of time. Otherwise you can purchase the text at the first class and get caught up that first week. Please let us know, however, if you will already have the text prior to the first class. Remember, no students are admitted after the second class and we don’t have a “come-for-the-first-class & see” policy. The Intensive is such a proven and popular course that we start in right away without hesitation!

By completing the attached preregistration form ahead of time and sending it in, it will speed the registration and helps us be better prepared. You can return it to us by reply email (friends@anandawa.org). If you have any trouble getting the file, let us know. You can pick it up in person at Ananda, or, we can mail it to you.

We are happy to try to answer any questions you may have or help in any way I can. Questions relating to health restrictions and the practice of hatha yoga, I may re-direct to the appropriate teacher.

Blessings to you,

Ananda teachers & staff

Information about the Raja/Hatha Course

Prerequisites

There are no prerequisites to taking the Raja Yoga Intensive course. Meditation and/or yoga postures will be new for some students but others will be re-taking the course or otherwise have had prior experience. Students consistently find that this course is helpful whether as a new experience or as a renewal, for the simple reason that these practices and precepts help us “tune-in” to ourselves!

Registration for the first Class

The class starts at 6 p.m. and goes until 9:15 p.m.

Organization of material presented.

The course begins with the practice of yoga postures including warm-ups and occasionally focuses on other aspects of the course such as healing or diet. Ending with deep relaxation, we then move seamlessly into guided meditation practices.

What to wear? Students will want to wear comfortable clothes suitable for yoga stretches or simple exercise — loose fitting or stretch fabrics.

What to bring? Yoga students should have a yoga (sticky) mat.¹ A blanket and yoga props are also helpful to have. Do not eat a full meal before class. You might try a more substantial snack in the late afternoon and some fruit a half hour before class. Don't forget to drink water that afternoon and before class, too.

How much meditation will we do in class? We will typically include a guided meditation. This is a key part of the course experience. You do NOT need to be an experienced meditator to benefit and enjoy this part. While it may take 30 to 40 minutes, the time passes quickly because it will include some beginning, simple stretch movements followed by sitting meditation using chants, visualizations, affirmation, breathing techniques (pranayams), breath awareness, and/or mantra and always ending in a brief period of complete stillness and silence.

Is there time for questions? Your comments and questions are welcome and spontaneous discussions are common. We have a large amount of material to cover in class, thus some students find it convenient to call or email questions that can then be integrated into the presentation.

Breaks: After the guided meditation segment which ends at about 7:50 p.m., there is a break before continuing into the evening's topic.

Is there “homework?” We know that you have many other responsibilities and interests. Sometimes it is simply the right time to take this course even though it's not the perfect time! On a relative scale, it is more important to engage in the practices than to only read about them! Continuing down the scale, it is usually better to take the course even if your time for personal practice and study is limited rather than waiting for some distant future when all other duties magically vanish! (Completion of homework and other prerequisites apply to those taking the course for credit in the Institute of Living Yoga. See below.)

Optional: The Raja Intensive is also the foundation core course for the teacher training programs of the Ananda Institute of Living Yoga. Students who choose to enroll in the Institute (open enrollment is only during the first two Raja classes) have attendance requirements, homework and a take-home final. See Institute additional fees on the next page.

Optional: Successful completion of this course is also a prerequisite for those wanting to learn Kriya Yoga.² See website or speak to one of the instructors for more information on this. This is not a certification prerequisite, however, and while substantial participation is expected, completion of homework is NOT required for kriya training. See: <http://www.anandawashington.org/kriya-yoga/>

Certificate of Completion: Whether or not you are enrolled in the Institute or preparing for Kriya Yoga, all students who successfully attend and actively participate will be given a Certificate of Completion.

What if I miss a class? If you must miss a class for any reason, we appreciate it if you'll let us know in advance (if planned absence) or call us that day (unplanned!). We provide audio recordings of the evening topic and post it on our website as an MP3 file.

Resources: You will have access to an archive of talks by Swami Kriyananda on Raja Yoga, plus a library of downloadable documents (including the weekly handouts) and other media with password accessible web page.

Your Instructors: The course is taught by Murali Venkatrao.

² Under certain circumstances this prerequisite can be waived. Please inquire.
